

Pacific War Nearing A Showdown

Problem of Supply Easier for Japan, Becomes More Difficult for Allies

By Hamilton W. Faron

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(P)—Running far ahead of schedule, with early invasion of the Philippines likely, the Pacific war is nearing a showdown stage, but the end is not in sight.

Strategy adopted by the Japanese high command when American forces land in the Philippines may indicate the future course of the war. Two possibilities stand out:

1. The Japanese may elect to throw major strength into an effort to retain those islands. They are rich in raw materials and also stand as a bulwark of defense for shipping lanes to other enemy held supply sources to the south.
2. The enemy may conserve his machines of war and choose to fight a holding war.

Many observers believe firmly that the second course is likely to be chosen. They point out that Japan has had an opportunity in the last two years to pile vast quantities of supplies on stockpiles that already were huge before the war started.

Good for Many Months

With those added quantities of materials and supplies of all kinds, it is wholly probable that Japan, even without the addition of any new material whatsoever, could continue to wage effective warfare for many months, possibly years.

Those who feel that the Japanese will follow a policy of drawing out the war to the bitter end—in hopes that the American people will tire of war and agree to a negotiated peace—cite also the cold statistics of supply.

As the victorious Allied forces drive the Japanese back from island to island, enemy supply lines become shorter and stronger. Conversely, Allied lines grow by thousands of miles, adding to the problems of movement of supplies and men.

When—and where—the big surface engagement long sought by American naval men will be fought, depends also upon the decision of the enemy command after the Philippine campaign opens. It could be that a naval battle will come there.

No Coffee Rationing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(P)—Coffee drinkers have received assurance from War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes that there will be no resumption of coffee rationing now.

Byrnes said there is a 3½ months supply of coffee on hand or enroute and that Brazil has given assurance that 1,000,000 bags will be supplied monthly.

American importers had reported that growers in coffee producing countries had been staying out of the market in order to obtain a price increase, causing the U. S. stockpile to drop.

Byrnes said stocks of coffee available to civilians on Sept. 1 amounted to 670,000,000 pounds compared with 487,000,000 pounds in July, 1943, when coffee came off the ration list.

Lowell Willis, Ex-Sedalian, Dies at Guam

Served in Marines, Buried in Cemetery No. 1 on Island

Lowell Willis, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Willis of Nyssa, Ore., who formerly lived south of Sedalia, was killed in action on July 21 on Guam. He was in the United States Marines.

He was a nephew of Mrs. Frances Reed and Miss Jessie Williams both of Ionia and Mrs. Nellie Wharton, 1422 South Grand avenue.

Young Willis was born on a farm south of Sedalia on May 18, 1923, the son of G. L. and Jewell Hatler Willis. He attended South Side and Bennett schools near here and the Nyssa, Ore., high school. In February, 1943, he enlisted in the marines and was sent overseas shortly afterwards. He was also in the battle of Bougainville.

Surviving are three brothers, Raphael Willis, T/5 USA; James Willis, with the U. S. army in France and Charles Wesley Willis of the home and a sister, Mrs. Leona Thompson of the home. Mrs. Thompson is the wife of Kenneth Thompson, also of the marines, who has returned from overseas after being wounded.

Letter from Chaplain

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. Willis from their son's chaplain:

"September 11, 1944

"My Dear Mr. and Mrs. Willis:

"Your letter of inquiry concerning your son, Lowell, came yesterday. The heartfelt sympathy of the whole company goes out to you in your great loss. Lowell was well liked by everyone in the company and the men looked up to him as they do to one who is close to his God. That Lowell was and I know your comfort will be in the fact that he is resting where there are no more wars, no more tears and no more pain.

"Lowell was wounded the evening of the first day we struck this island. He was seriously wounded and died almost immediately.

"Everything that could be done for him in a medical way was done. His faith was strong in his God and he died praying the Lord's Prayer.

"This is about all I can tell you concerning Lowell's passing on into the Great Beyond. He was buried in the Army, Navy and Marine cemetery number one. I did not conduct the service for Lowell as I was too far away at the time but another chaplain did.

"I have since been by Lowell's grave and have stopped and offered a prayer for the salvation of his soul and for your comfort. Lowell is surrounded by friends and comrades who gave their lives bravely and courageously as he did.

"The graves are all marked and I trust when this conflict is over you folks will be able to come out here and visit Lowell's grave.

"Accept my deepest sympathy in your loss of Lowell and if I may be of any further service to you please feel free to call on me.

"Sincerely and cordially,

"Chaplain W. H. Kettlitz."

Edgar Holland Escapes From Arnheim Could Trial Set for October 23

Prosecutor Asked For Continuance, Must Ask in Writing

The trial of Edgar Holland, charged with the first degree murder of his wife, Mollie Mattie Holland, has been set for trial on October 23 by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, in the criminal division of the circuit court. The case was set this morning when the docket was called.

When the case was called Prosecuting Attorney L. J. Harned asked the court to continue the case to the January term, whereupon Fred F. Wesner, attorney for Holland, stated his client was ready for trial and asked for it to be set for hearing in this term.

Harned explained to the court there were many witnesses in the case, some lived outside the state and it would take time to subpoena all witnesses.

Wesner said he felt his client was entitled to have his trial and resented they were ready and he saw no reason for any delay. Judge Hoffman then set the case down for the twenty-third and said, "This will give two weeks in this term for the case."

The court then informed the prosecuting attorney he would have to file a formal application for a continuance, after which he would take the matter up.

State Lawyer Here

Covell R. Hewitt, assistant state attorney general, who is assisting Mr. Harned, was in court this morning. After the court session he went to the office of the prosecutor to discuss the case.

Later in the day Mr. Harned was called and he stated they were discussing the case and hadn't made up their minds definitely whether an application would be filed for the continuance. "As I told the court, it will be very difficult to get in touch with the witnesses in the case, especially those who live outside the state. If a certain date is set in January then we could begin contacting the witnesses and prepare for the trial," Mr. Harned said.

Holland appeared in court with his attorney, dressed in a gray business suit and throughout the discussion watched with interest his attorney, the court and the prosecutor. He is at liberty under a $15,000 bond for his appearance.

Arrested Last May

The defendant was arrested last May after two headless bodies found in the Lake of the Ozarks had been identified as those of his wife Molly Mattie Holland and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Fairfax, 57.

The body of Mrs. Fairfax was buried, while the other is still retained at the University of Missouri laboratory. Holland, however, says the body of the woman being held is not that of his wife.

Other Cases

John Bradner, a soldier AWOL from Camp Crowder, who was charged with the larceny of an automobile, pleaded guilty to Judge Hoffman. He was sentenced to two years in the Missouri Intermediate Reformatory at Alton.

Chester F. Gritton, charged with intoxicated driving, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. Raymond Reginald Hellums, charged jointly with Victor Osborne and his wife, Barbara E. Osborne, with grand larceny, was granted a severance. He pleaded guilty to the court and was sentenced to two years in the Missouri penitentiary.

Osborne and his wife pleaded not guilty and J. W. Palmer was appointed to defend them. The court then set the case for trial on October 5. They are being held in the county jail.

Woman and Son Disappear

Oran C. Keith, charged with assault and battery, pleaded guilty and was given thirty days in the county jail and fined $100 and costs. Keith's wife, who was not held in jail but charged with assault and battery, failed to appear in court. The woman was permitted to stay at a local hotel to take care of their nine years old son and they disappeared several days ago.

October 10 was the date set for the case of V. C. Richardson, violation of a city ordinance, appealed from the city court to the circuit court.

Frankie "Lovie" Braden, charged with burglary and larceny, was set for trial October 9.

Gertrude Jones, Negro, assault with intent to kill, case set for October 16.

No disposition was made in the case of Robert Clarence Allen, charged with burglary and larceny, nor was any disposition made in the case of Ruby Lee Rucker, Negro woman, charged with grand larceny.

Mrs. Mollie Mattie Holland

Graveside services for Mrs. Mollie Mattie Holland will be held at the Otterville cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

The body is at the Ewing funeral home.

Escapes From Arnheim Could Not Have Held Out Longer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Oct. 2.—(P)—The men of Arnheim who escaped could not have held out another 24 hours, Maj. Gen. R. E. Ughart said today.

Ughart came here after about 2,000 of 8,000 men in his British airborne division escaped annihilation by pulling across the Rhine, where they landed September 17 in a vain effort to establish a bridgehead.

"The Americans put on a really magnificent show, flying in the face of heavy flak, trying to bring up supplies," the six-foot general said. "It wasn't their fault the operation failed."

Speaker at Meeting of Rotary Tells of Rubber Situation

The Sedalia Rotary club met today at the Hotel Bothwell, with Lawrence Barnett, president in charge of the meeting.

Program chairman for the month of October, B. B. Bess, introduced C. A. McGill, district manager B. F. Goodrich company, Kansas City. Mr. McGill spoke on the "Rubber Situation."

The speaker pointed out that in 1941 we were using approximately 600,000 tons of crude rubber per year. Of this amount 97 per cent was imported from the Dutch East Indies and Malayan Peninsula. Seventy per cent of this rubber went to the construction of passenger, truck and tractor tires. The balance was used for countless other products in civilian life.

Our rubber stock pile at the time of Pearl Harbor was 450,000 tons in warehouses and about 250,000 tons in shipment. Or, in other words about enough to last for one year.

Said the speaker, "I do not need to go into the reasons why this stock pile was not more adequate. When our source of supply was cut off by the Japanese we had to turn to synthetic. Fortunately, we began experimenting

TODAY ON THE War Fronts

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(P)—More than 2,700 Allied warplanes stuck in close and deep support today of the great new American offensive against the Siegfried Line in the Aachen sector of northwest Germany.

Over 1,000 medium and fighter bombers blazed a path into the Nazi wall immediately before Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' men.

About 900 Flying Fortresses with 500 escorts tore at targets around Cologne and Kasel while 300 Liberators poured bomb loads into German's greatest freight yards at Hamm, 90 miles northeast of Aachen.

CHUNGKING, Oct. 2.—(P)—Attributing recent Chinese reverses to lack of essential equipment, a spokesman for the Chinese National Military Council said today the actual tonnage of American supplies delivered to the East China forces since Pearl Harbor would not be sufficient to sustain an American or British division in combat for a week.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(P)—The Germans were reported from Cairo today to have given up three islands off the southern tip of Greece in the face of British Commando attacks while other advances told of Allied forces driving into Greece from the northwest and of partisans fighting in the vicinity of Athens.

U. S. FIRST ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 2.—(P)—The hard-hitting U. S. Third armored division was the first American outfit to crack a way through the Siegfried line, it was officially announced today.

Pvt. J. C. Franks in Hospital in States

Mr. and Mrs. James Franks, 906 South Barrett avenue, were very happy late Saturday night to receive a long distance telephone call from their son, Pvt. J. C. He will be transferred to the government hospital in Tepeka, Kas., he told them.

Halt Work at Pratt-Whitney

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—A work stoppage halted production of airplane engines at the big Pratt and Whitney plant today.

L. C. Mallett, manager of the engine factory, estimated that 80 per cent of the 10,000 men and women on the day shift left after punching time clocks.

There were no picket lines and workers were not turned back until they were met by union stewards at their machines, a plant official said. Some remained on the job, but not enough to start the production line, he added.

W. T. Beebe, personnel manager, reported that Thomas F. Lyndon, executive committeeman of local 314, International Association of Machinists (AFL) had telephoned him yesterday, advising that members of the union had voted to cease work unless the company dismissed four foremen and one acting group leader and reinstated a discharged probationary employee.

Bottling up Germans in Lower Balkans

Moscow Silent on Critical Situation In Warsaw

By Daniel de Luce

MOSCOW, Oct. 2.—(P)—Russian fighter bombers swarmed over Yugoslavia in round-the-clock raids on German forces as Russian ground troops gained steadily today along a curving, mountainous front 70 to 100 miles southeast of Belgrade in a drive that is bottling up an estimated 200,000 Nazi troops in the lower Balkans.

The Germans were fiercely defending their Balkan life line to the southeast of the Yugoslav capital, but yesterday Red Army troops, with Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Partisans acting as advance scouts, dented Nazi defenses another 23 miles to within 43 miles of the Belgrade-Nis railway, Moscow announced.

Soviet pilots today reported silencing 50 enemy batteries, destroying five military trains and knocking out scores of trucks and tanks along the vital escape hatch for the imperiled Nazis.

(Meanwhile, an unconfirmed Budapest dispatch from Turkey said other Soviet-Romanian troops had penetrated 22 miles southeast of Hungary in an offensive aimed at Budapest, Magyar capital less than 100 miles distant. Russian gains in that sector were officially acknowledged by Hungary but their depths was not disclosed.)

No Moscow Comment

Moscow was silent about the Hungarian drive and about the situation at Warsaw, which was described as "critical" by Polish patriots as Berlin said the Nazis were overwhelming the dwindling guerrillas.)

Soviet progress toward the Morava valley route of the Belgrade-Greece railway was the only important advance claimed today along the entire eastern front.

Some of these gains yesterday were up to three and four miles.

It followed enemy warnings for several days that the Allies were preparing powerful blows in the Aachen area, the Nijmegen corridor held by the British to the north and in the Moselle and Belfort areas to the south.

DAILY WASHINGTON

Merry-go- Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, October 2—Only those quite close to the prime minister know it, but last spring he was not at all enthusiastic about having Franklin Roosevelt re-elected president of the United States. In fact, some of Churchill's friends did some quiet smuggling up to the Dewey camp, with the idea of being on the right side after election. That was at the time when Churchill and Roosevelt were not getting along at all well. They had differed at Tehran on various subjects, especially the Balkans and the Second Front. Roosevelt sided with Stalin that the Allies should support Russian puppet Tito in Yugoslavia and that Russia should be permitted a sphere of influence in the Balkans except Greece.

The president also agreed with Stalin that the British and American armies must start a second front in western Europe by spring, thereby overruling Churchill.

Irritated over Tehran, Churchill made overtures last spring that he and Roosevelt get together for another talk, but Roosevelt, also irritated, side-stepped. It was at this time that Churchill was most unenthusiastic about FDR's re-election.

At Quebec, however, the two men seemed to get along much better. There were some slight differences regarding Italy, but nothing too important. Simultaneously, Churchill got a confidential report from his intelligence people, who had been making a very careful check of U. S. political opinion, that the president was a sure winner in November.

Whether because of this report or because things went better at Quebec, Churchill came away with a different viewpoint regarding Roosevelt's re-election, and definitely hoping FDR would be on deck to sit with him and Stalin in writing the peace.

Radio Aids Railway
It didn't make headlines, but at the recent federal communications commission hearing on radiotelephones, the representatives of 11 major railroads agreed to the value of radiotelephones in "increasing efficiency" of railway operation. They preferred not to talk about the safety value, for the railroads don't admit there is room for safety improvements on the roads.

Major witness for the railroads was William Triem, Pennsylvania railroad communications chief and chairman of the Association of American Railroads' powerful rules committee. Although he bent over backward to spare the fair name of association members Triem nonetheless found himself admitting, under cross examination by dogged FCC Attorney Jerry Courtney that radio would aid materially in reducing the danger element in more than a dozen common emergency situations.

Triem talked from the experience of his own company which has installed two-way radio systems on ten trains running from Trenton to Phillipsburg, N. J. The experiment has proved so successful that trainmen familiar with the radio operation squawk bitterly when they are assigned to trains not yet equipped with radio. Also the Pennsylvania has appropriated $1,000,000 to begin installing radio on other divisions.

At one point FCC's Courtney read a statement attributed to Bill Jeffers, former rubber czar and president of the Union Pacific. Jeffers said: "We have not allowed ourselves to be stampeded into the use of devices—like radio for operating trains, for example—where theory is substituted for that safety which depends upon constant intelligent application of safe practice developed over 75 years of operation."

Replied Triem: "We (the Pennsylvania) do not operate a railroad on theory. We are convinced of the truth of Courtney's summation that radio has provided 'increased efficiency and increased safety of operation.'"

FCC's Courtney asked if radio would not help to prevent derailments and trainbreaks resulting from application of the air safety breaks by a conductor in the rear of the train. Triem admitted: "There are numbers of cases where trains have been broken in two by that process."

"And where derailments have occurred as the result?" Courtney pressed.

"I believe that is true, too," Triem admitted. He agreed that two-way communication on the train, enabling the conductor in the rear to tell the engineer to stop, would eliminate the danger of trainbreak.

Similarly, he admitted that radio would decrease the danger in cases of emergency stop, missing of stop signals, hotboxes or dragging equipment and when there are obstructions on the track.

Jap War Major Job
Administration leaders aren't talking about it but they are privately concerned about America's reaction to V-E day. They not only fear a possible slowdown of production and fighting spirit, but also an unrestrained celebration on Armistice day.

Noisy street celebrations, widespread drinking and any feeling that the war is over will be most unpleasant for the millions of families who have sons in the Pacific still faced with the big job of defeating stubborn Japs.

The administration is also worried sick over the Japanese drive through China, and fear that the fight against the Empire of the Rising Sun is far from over.

At OWI, letters have been coming in for weeks from broadcasters, newspapers and others asking what line they should take on V-E day. There was strong sentiment within OWI to suggest announcements that unrestrained irresponsible celebration would be out of place, but Elmer Davis, finally decided against it. No agency has the right to dictate to the people how they should receive the news, Davis feels. At the same time, OWI will propose that radio and press carry potent reminders that the war is not over and that we are still faced with a major conflict in the Pacific. OWI will point out that, although our productive capacity is eight times Japan's supplying our troops is such a long-distance operation that the Japs can meet us on equal terms in most places close to Tokyo.

Texas Thinks Twice
Before Roosevelt delivered his campaign speech at the Teamster's dinner, he had a private session with Teamster President Dan Tobin, in which they discussed the political situation, especially in Texas, the state that had been trying to make its mind whether to have Roosevelt electors or non-Roosevelt electors on the ballot.

"Did you hear Bob Hannegan's story about Texas, Mr. President?" asked Tobin. "With these electors coming and going he says it's 'On again, off again, gone again, Hannegan.'"

Roosevelt observed that he had done everything he could about Texas, but didn't know what was

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

II
WE do know, and we should never forget, that the German militarists consider us Germany's principal enemy. Our democracy is a symbol of hope to the oppressed. As long as it survives, the nations the Germans are determined to subdue will never resign themselves to German domination.

And we must draw the logical conclusions from our knowledge, calmly but quickly. As late as the summer of 1943, German propaganda still triumphed in the belief of an appalling number of Americans and Britishers that the mistakes of the Versailles Treaty fattered the German aggressive spirit which brought about the Second World War.

Certainly the Treaty of Versailles was far from perfect. Certainly, too, the sufferings of the German people were intense. But only a small fraction of that suffering came from the terms of the treaty. A great part of it came as an aftermath of the war itself and from the German militarists' determination to bootleg Germany a new army.

But the Germans blamed us, and our peace treaty. The more sentimental of us echoed the plaint. If we had not been so unkind to the poor Germans at Versailles, we said, they would not have felt the need to rearm; they would not have fallen prey to a demagogue like Hitler. On such lopsided, literally Jerry-built logic, we based a whole theory of war guilt, in which we were both judge and villain.

The truth is that German militarists never meant to give up the fight when the German army sued for armistice in 1918. It only went under cover to lick its wounds. Our alleged unkindness at Versailles had nothing whatever to do with Germany's dedication to another war, and should that war fail, to still another.

The truth is that in August and September of 1918, when they were privately told by General Ludendorff that defeat was imminent, Germany's cleverest, most ruthless men, the German General Staff, the top-ranking industrialists, and some of the most astute university professors, came together with a strong common purpose: to form a cabal powerful and fanatic enough to make ready a new army and to sweep Germany to victory after a short armistice.

ALL around Ludendorff in that tense autumn of 1918, however, there was indescribable national confusion. The various cliques seethed in a ferment; the cabinet members despairing of the matter with the folks down there.

"There's a fellow down there named Garner who doesn't love you much," replied Tobin, "but I don't think he's going to vote against the ticket. And if Texas does defeat you, they'll lose all the juiciest jobs in congress, for the best committee chairmanships from the speaker down are chiefly held by Texans. I don't think they will cut off their noses to spite their faces."

Next day the Texas supreme court voted to put the pro-Roosevelt electors on the ticket.

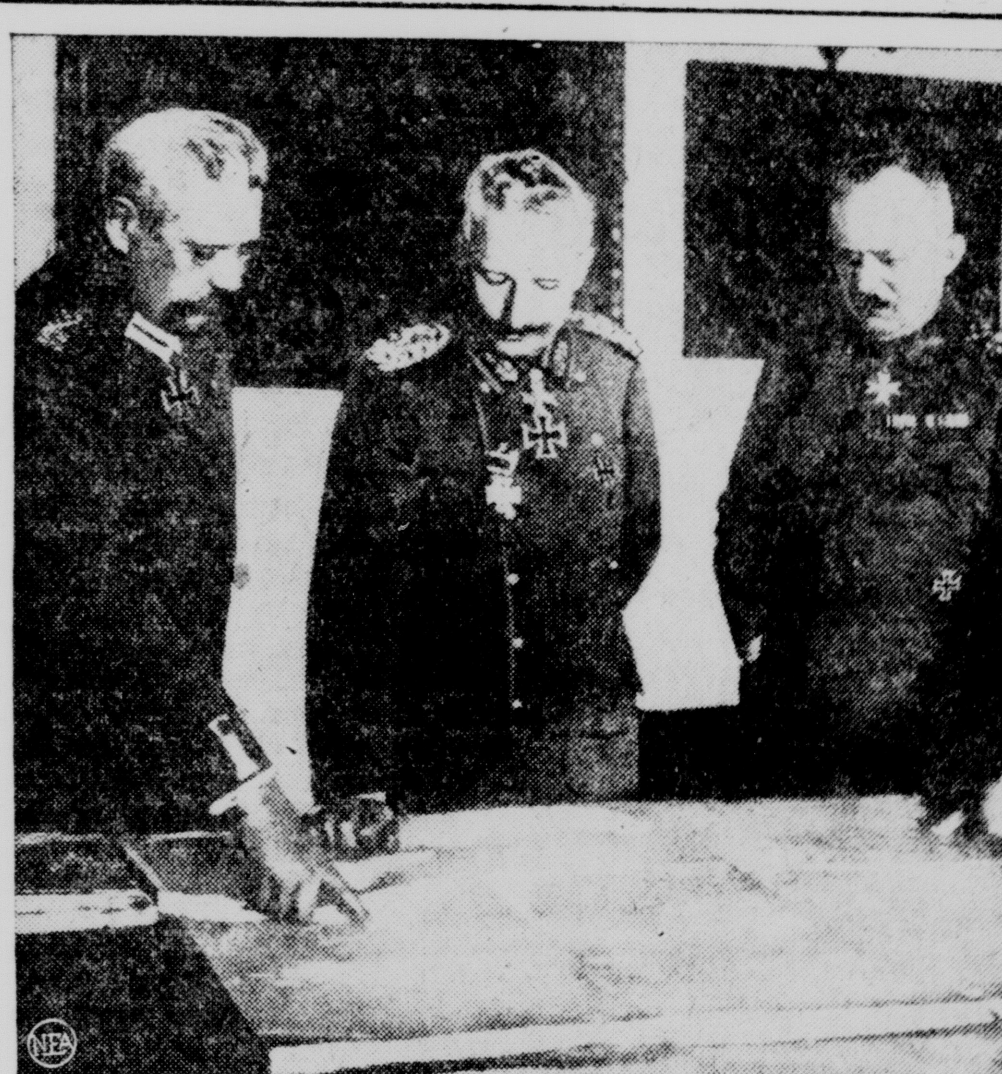

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

Rev. J. J. Pritchett and family left yesterday for their new home in Kansas City and the Rev. A. B. Appleby and family have moved into the Fifth street M. E. Church, South, parsonage.

The Ministerial Alliance today put in nearly the entire meeting in discussing the alleged non-enforcement of the Sunday and other laws in Sedalia. Committees were named to ascertain how many saloons and other places of business keep open on Sunday.

Prof. E. V. Neal and wife of New York City, will be the guests of his mother, Mrs. E. C. Neal and Von Hindenburg, the Kaiser and Ludendorff confer on a point of strategy in World War I. It was Ludendorff who later helped bring about the Kaiser's abdication, rallied the military clique that stabbed the German Republic in the back and paved the way for Nazism.

favorable armistice terms if the Kaiser did not withdraw; the old-time, feudally trained men among the army officers supporting the Kaiser's defiance; and the Kaiser himself swaying from one bewilderment to another as the popular discontent became too apparent to be ignored. For the people had learned that it was the Kaiser's refusal to abdicate that was keeping the longed-for peace dangling just out of their reach.

During all these hazardous days the industrialists, who had always actively but discreetly directed the government, kept themselves far in the background. But they were busy. All the men whom Ludendorff had tipped off as to a possible German defeat used what private pressure they could to bring about the abdication.

THE differences between the closing days of World War I and World War II are bound to be many. One of the fundamental dissimilarities lies in the persons of the heads of state. As king and emperor, the Kaiser automatically commanded the absolute loyalty of his officers, just as his forebears had commanded the loyalty of their ancestors. But, in the eyes of the master-powers of Germany, who has Hitler ever been? Just a rather vulgar little man who was useful, whose daring, whose visionary qualities and extraordinary insight emboldened him to take steps which the more respectable if equally ruthless military commanders feared to take. Further, being a commoner, he could reach the mind of the masses. Separating from the Kaiser was a hard wrench, like parting from a close family member—getting rid of Hitler, only a pleasure to many of the key men who have followed him obediently friends in a few days. Prof. Neal was formerly connected with Central Business College.

The Pettis county court in session today approved the bond of Dr. W. G. Cowan as coroner.

The Rev. J. W. Ferrell, formerly of LaMonte, now of Independence, Kas., left this morning for a two weeks' fishing trip near Fairfield, Benton county, accompanying a group of fishermen to be in camp there.

Place DeMolay Boys on Map

A map of the United States made by Frank Coffman, 1411 South Ohio avenue, and his son, Frank Coffman, Jr., now in Naval Training in Crete, Neb., is on exhibit in the window of Scott's book store.

The map is framed and pictures of thirty boys of the De Molay Sedalia Chapter No. 29, are placed around the edge of the map. Twenty-seven of the thirty were graduated in the 1944 class of Smith-Cotton high school.

Pins of brown, green and blue show the places on the map where the boys are now stationed. Brown pins for the Army, green pins for the Marines and blue pins for the Navy. All but five of the boys are still in the United States and mother, Mrs. E. C. Neal and

"BUYING TIMBER FOR PT BOATS TAKES ME WHERE IT'S PLENTY RUGGED!"

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"
says FRED LEMERY
Log Buyer, Lebanon, Oregon

In times like these, the traditional economy and reliability of Ford cars are more than ever appreciated by millions of Ford owners. And with efficient Ford Protective Service readily available everywhere, it's small wonder you so often hear it said, "Sure glad I've got a Ford!"

"I COVER 600 SQUARE MILES buying timber to be made into plywood for PT boats, planes, and other war goods. It's rugged country but my 1942 Ford takes it in stride."

"IT'S TRAVELED 75,000 MILES on the roughest roads imaginable. The car takes a beating but it stands up fine. And though much of my driving is in low gear, I get good gas mileage."

"A CAR'S GOT TO BE GOOD to measure up to rough going like that. My Ford's been swell and to keep it so I take it to my Ford dealer regularly for a checkup. It certainly pays!"

NEWS NOTES: To distribute materials within the Rouge plant of Ford, 25 miles of roadways and 100 miles of railroad track have been constructed.

War 2 Veterans May Seek Jobs As They Will

Excluded From Provisions of Stabilization Plan

It was announced today by C. M. Farris, manager of the United States Employment Service in Sedalia that he had received official instructions from the Administrative Office of the United States Employment Service in Jefferson City, Missouri, that all veterans of the present war had been excluded from all provisions of the labor stabilization program. Veterans of the present war are defined under this order as those who have served in the armed forces of the United States subsequent to December 7, 1941, and have other than a dishonorable discharge. The term "Armed Forces" includes the Army, Navy, Marines Corps, Coast Guard, Naval Reserve, National Naval Volunteers, WAC, WAVES, Spars, and United States Marine Corps Women Reserve.

May Take Any Job Mr. Farris further explained that this order gives all veterans of the present war the right to accept employment in any line of work which they might desire without referral by the United States Employment Service office or without a statement of availability, commonly called "release", from their former employment. It also gives veterans of this war the right to change jobs without any form of restriction or control. This order gives employers the right to hire veterans of the present war without their being referred by the office of the United States Employment Service or without their having any form of release civilian employment. The local office of the United States Employment Service is located at 500 1/2 South Ohio street in Sedalia and serves the counties of Pettis, Johnson, Henry, Hickory, Morgan, and Benton.

No Priority On Auto Tools

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Chairman J. A. Krug of the War Production Board pressed ahead today with his plans to drop 350 orders controlling industry as soon as Germany falls, but without giving the automobile industry priority now on machine tools.

Krug, successor to Donald M. Nelson at the WPB, told an interviewer that "we haven't the manpower now to make the machine tools" which auto makers have asked to get them off to a fast start on making passenger cars after victory in Europe.

Motor company heads have said that they cannot get delivery on machine tool orders unless these orders had priority standing and that suppliers say they can't fill some of the orders otherwise until next June.

National Letter Writing Week This is national letter writing week, and not that the GI's need to be reminded to write, but to give added emphasis the USO will encourage more letter writing through exhibits of posters.

The American War Dads club are being asked to assist with a form of letter writing, that of letters-on-records, by assisting servicemen and women in making recordings at the USO club, particularly week-ends.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly clears the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

People who get results agree that there is no substitute for hard work and also that recreation and relaxation are essential to accomplishment. In your well-earned leisure, select a beverage of moderation. A tall, stately glass of Budweiser is a standing invitation to make your moments of relaxation complete.

They Builded Better Than They Knew

With the help of the neighbors, many a little red schoolhouse was built. That readiness to help the folks down the road and the family across the square was the strength of our early America, the foundation for our democracy. Because of it, we have a greater heritage to defend than any other people on Earth.

In these wartime days, the spirit of neighborliness so characteristic of our people is again paying dividends. Did you ever dream ten years ago that today you would pull up to the curb and offer a ride to a stranger? That you would have a bundle of salvaged paper ready when the Boy Scouts called? That you would walk home with awkward packages because your dealers have difficulty making deliveries? When you aid your neighbor, you aid your country. Isn't it surprising how many things one person can do to help win the war?

Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and Textiles—to name a few.

Three Talks By Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(P)—The Democratic vice-presidential nominee, Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, announced today that he would make speeches at Caruterville, Mo., Oct. 7, New Orleans, Oct. 11, and Los Angeles, Oct. 16.

Truman is undertaking a transcontinental political swing, but details of the trip beyond Los Angeles have not been completed.

The senator told reporters he hoped to see a game or two of the world series in St. Louis at the end of the week, then go to Caruterville to attend an American Legion fair.

"It's a sentimental thing," explained Truman, "as I have been the speaker at the fair for twelve years."

In New Orleans, the vice presidential candidate will address the Mississippi Valley Association. He said he would speak on flood control.

The subject of the Los Angeles address has not been determined.

Speech 'One Shot Affair'

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 2.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's trip to Charleston, W. Va., for a campaign speech Saturday will be what his aides described today as a "one shot affair," the ammunition to depend on President Roosevelt.

Present plans call for the Republican presidential nominee to return to New York after the Charleston engagement. He will register in Manhattan early next week for the November election.

His schedule for the rest of the month, expected to include a swing through the middle west, along the seaboard and into New England, still is being considered by Dewey's campaign advisers.

Asked what the governor would talk about at Charleston, James C. Hagerty, his executive assistant, said:

"That is likely to depend very much on what President Roosevelt says in his speech Thursday night."

Mr. Roosevelt is scheduled, in his second professionally political address of the campaign, to address a series of Democratic rallies.

Dewey returned to his desk at the capitol today and began going through accumulated state business.

Meanwhile, other Republican orators set out this week in behalf of the national ticket.

Boys Write Of Camp Held At Kaiser, Mo.

Pettis County 4-H Delegates Tell Of Activities There

Bill Rissler of the Maplewood 4-H Club and Ira Williams of the Houstonia 4-H Club were the Pettis county 4-H delegates that attended the conservation camp at Camp Hawthorne, Kaiser, Missouri, near the Lake of the Ozarks. The stores of camp activities written by these boys are as follows: "Camp Hawthorne was open for registration at three o'clock Thursday afternoon. There were fifty people at camp including the camp personnel who stayed there. The camp members were divided into three groups. Each group then elected five council members, the council members in turn elected a president, a secretary, cabin inspectors, and song leaders. Ira and I were members of the council and song leaders during the camp period.

We had two swimming periods during our stay at camp with Miss Harman as life guard. Of evenings we sang songs and played folk games and one evening we saw a moving picture of habits of prairie chickens conducted by Mr. Schwartz. Thursday we took a trip on the lake, and the boat made two trips that afternoon, taking half of the campers each trip. At Observation Tower Saturday morning we had a contour line contest and a trip to the observation tower supervised by Mr. Coleman. Dr. Bennett and Mr. Schwartz were in charge of a field trip through the woods where we located birds with field glasses and tried to identify them. Mr. Coleman was in charge of a field trip to the shore of the lake where Mr. Schwartz told us about water fowl and water animals which were very interesting.

Dr. Bennett gave us a talk on the value of song birds and how to prepare food and shelter for them. Mr. Johnston gave a talk on the purpose of the recreational area. We also had a talk on developing pictures and a talk about habits and shelter of wildlife by Mr. Schwartz.

Camp was dismissed at one thirty Sunday afternoon after we had dinner and a report from the council. I am sure all of the members enjoyed the camp very much and found it very educational.

Billy Rissler.

"The State 4-H Club Conservation Camp was held at Camp Hawthorne, Lake of the Ozarks, U. S. Recreation Area at Kaiser, Missouri.

We arrived at camp on Thursday evening and stayed until Sunday afternoon. "Conservation" was the theme all the time we were there. We were divided into three groups—the "Feather, Flower, Fir and Fin."

Each group selected 5 to be on the Camp Council. Two of these five were called the Wardens. They led the singing. The council president was named "The King-fisher"; the secretary, "Queen Quill Porcupine"; and the cabin inspectors were called the "Beaver Housekeepers."

Five Groups of Leaders

We had a very fine group of leaders. Robert S. Clough, Miss May Sontag, and Miss Marylee Holmes had our camp planned very good. Mr. C. W. Schwartz, a biologist from the State Conservation Commission, and Dr. Rudolf Bennett from the University of Missouri, gave us a lot of very valuable information on nature and wildlife. They gave several interesting talks and took us on a number of field trips. Mr. Schwartz is quite a camera man and he was always taking picture of nature and wildlife. He showed one movie of the Prairie Chickens and explained it.

We studied the soil under the supervision of Mr. O. T. Coleman, a specialist in soil conservation. He explained the differences in soils and taught us to run off contour lines and terrace ridges. We were all given a level and told to set stakes for a terrace ridge. Some of the results were very accurate.

Plenty of recreation was on hand all the time. We had swimming, horseshoe pitching, singing, and games of all kinds. Miss Carolyn Harman was in charge of the swimming and was a very good life guard. After supper each evening we enjoyed a fine time of singing and folk games and dance.

We took one boat trip out over the lake one afternoon. We had lots of fun in everything we did.

We were generally on K.P. in some form each day. If we happened to be on the dishwashing crew, we were due about an hour or more of cleaning up the dishes and the kitchen. We had to have our cabins in order each morning before the inspectors came around. It was never a burden on anyone though, as everyone pitched in and helped to make camp life a success.

All in all, we had a very educational and enjoyable time at the conservation camp with a fine group of 4-H boys and girls from all over the State of Missouri.

Ira Williams,

Pettis County Delegate.

TO AMERICAN WOMEN ASKING—

"Will Defeat of Germany Lessen the Need for Saving Used Fats?"

—THE GOVERNMENT ANSWERS "NO!"

LEE MARSHALL

Victory over Germany still leaves the Japs in possession of the Dutch East Indies, the Philippines and Malaya—countries from which we formerly imported about one billion pounds of fats and oils each year.

Even victory over Japan will not ease the situation immediately. Not for a year or more can these areas be brought back to pre-war production levels.

In the meantime, the need for your used fats will be as acute as ever for these reasons:

1 Even after European victory, we still have Japan to beat. Vast supplies of ammunition, medicines, parachutes, rubber boats, soaps and other battlefield essentials must keep on going to our fighting men in a steady stream. These all require fats to make.

2 We must help in the rehabilitation of liberated countries, such as Greece, Norway and the Netherlands, with medicines, machinery, etc.

3 Many factories now producing for war will turn to manufacturing the civilian goods we need so urgently. These factories will consume vast quantities of industrial fats.

American farmers are doing everything possible to build up domestic production of fats and oils. But during the next 12 months, because of a smaller hog kill and reduced yields of some oil-seed crops, we expect that approximately a billion-and-a-third pounds less of fats will be produced.

Need Greater Than Ever

Therefore, more than ever, salvaging used cooking fats is an important resource on which the country must continue to lean in order to tide us over.

Saving used fats is not a glamorous task. It takes effort. But it is one that only you, the American housewife, can perform for the country. We ask you to continue the wonderful job you are doing to help speed final Victory.

Harvesting and Preparing for Storage

Root crops in the right eating stage, with the exception of Irish potatoes and onions, should be left in the ground as late as possible without danger of freezing.

By thus delaying storage until cool weather, vegetables may be in better condition and the lower temperature of the storage place will make conditions more ideal for preservation. It is well to allow the vegetables to stand out of doors over night to cool and then put them in storage early in the morning. In every instance, however, except with parsnips and salsify, vegetables should be harvested before the first freeze.

Sanitation of the storage room or house is good storage in short. It is unwise to store products in places which are overrun with rot spores. Therefore, the storage place should be thoroughly cleaned and ventilated before putting the products in for winter. A satisfactory disinfectant solution can be made up by adding one pint of formaldehyde to six gallons of water or one pound of copper sulphate to ten gallons of water. Either of these solutions may be used for disinfecting boxes or crates and the inside of the storage structure.

Ventilation for Stored Vegetables Ventilation is important in controlling both temperature and moisture in the storage of vegetables. In so many cases and cellars, because of lack of sufficient ventilation and high humidity, the gases given off by the root crops become stale and musty. With ventilation facilities, this stale, musty air can quickly be replaced with fresh air.

During early fall, ventilation is extremely helpful in controlling the temperature. By opening the ventilators in the evening, leaving them open all night then closing them in the morning, the temperature in the cellar can be lowered several degrees, thus making storage conditions much more favorable.

An excellent arrangement for ventilation is to have an opening at the top and the back of the storage cellar and one in the bottom of the front door. By opening these two ventilators a change of air will be quickly made.

Temperatures for Stored Vegetables

Temperature is one of the important considerations in successfully storing vegetables. The temperature requirements vary greatly for different crops and if vegetables are stored correctly they must be grouped according to their temperature requirements.

The root crops such as beets, carrots, turnips, winter radishes, and rutabagas keep best in a temperature ranging from just above freezing to 40 F. Parsnips and salsify can be stored with the root crops, but these two crops can stand light freezing; therefore, they may be left in the ground all winter and dug when needed.

Cabbage, Chinese cabbage and celery are crops which keep best in temperatures from just above freezing to 40 F. The ideal storage temperature for Irish potatoes ranges from 36 F. to 40 F., and that for onions from 30 F. to 34 F. Onions also stand light freeze if they are not handled during the time they are frozen.

Regardless of what temperature requirements are for various vegetables, quick changes in temperature should be avoided. Even temperatures give best results with all vegetables.

Successful Storage of Pumpkins and Squash Pumpkins and squash which are to be stored for winter should be harvested before heavy frost occurs. Although these crops have a tough protective covering they may suffer damage from heavy frost.

In harvesting, the stem should be pulled from the vine and left attached to the pumpkin or squash, thus avoiding an open scar on the vegetable.

Careful handling is also important to avoid bruising which is responsible for much loss during the storage period.

For most successful storage these crops should be kept in a temperature of from 40 to 50 degrees, in a dry place with ample ventilation. Immediately after harvest they may be placed in storage for the winter.

Observe Irish Potatoes in Storage Irish potatoes now in storage should be watched carefully to see if they are keeping.

Potatoes fully matured, carefully harvested and cured, and placed in storage will quickly indicate the success of the storage conditions.

At this time of year, inspection of the stored product will indicate the next move. If they are in good condition with no rotten or shriveled potatoes they are likely to keep successfully through the season. If, on the other hand,

No Salt Rationing Salt is one of the most vital war materials, but it will never be rationed. The United States alone has an almost inexhaustible supply, which includes the world's largest salt mine at Retsof, N. Y., which is 1000 acres in area and 1073 feet in depth.

some are decaying it will be difficult to determine whether the decay is the result of injury during harvest or poor conditions in the storage place. If the latter is responsible, corrections should be made such as affording more ventilation, increasing or decreasing the moisture content of the air, as the case may be.

Discuss The Stock Outlook At Meeting

Medals Won Are Presented And Program Outlined

At the meeting of the Pettis County Livestock Committee held at Kueck's Cafe last Tuesday night, the medals won by Fred Houchen in the Pork Production contest and by Hillview Farms in the Beef Production contest were presented to these men and a program for the year was outlined.

Fred Houchen of the Hughesville community won a bronze medal given by Kansas City and St. Louis Chamber of Commerce for his good job of producing pork in 1943. Mr. Houchen raised 144 pigs from 18 litters last year. Hillview Farm won a gold medal in the feeder calf division of the Beef Production contest. They raised a 94 per cent calf crop from 66 grade Hereford cows.

Talk on Problems

The highlight of the meeting was a discussion of the livestock outlook and the problems that confront livestock producers, by E. M. Woods, field representative of the Producers Livestock Commission Association. Following this discussion the committee approved the following as their program during the next year:

(1) To hold a county-wide livestock meeting on October 5, 1944, at 8:00 p. m.

(2) To hold a livestock tour in 1945 and that preceding this livestock tour that a livestock demonstration would be set up so that there would be concrete information in regard to production practices and rates of gain.

(3) To sponsor a program of better sires.

(4) Carry forward an educational program with all agencies cooperating.

(5) Continue predatory animal control program.

(6) Cooperation in building a strong agricultural organization.

(7) Sponsor a youth program with special emphasis on 4-H and Vocational Agricultural work.

(8) Cooperate and give assistance to returning veterans.

(9) Give assistance in helping solve livestock transportation problems.

(10) Continue a program of culling out inefficient livestock on Pettis County farms.

(11) Help keep lending agencies informed as to livestock problems.

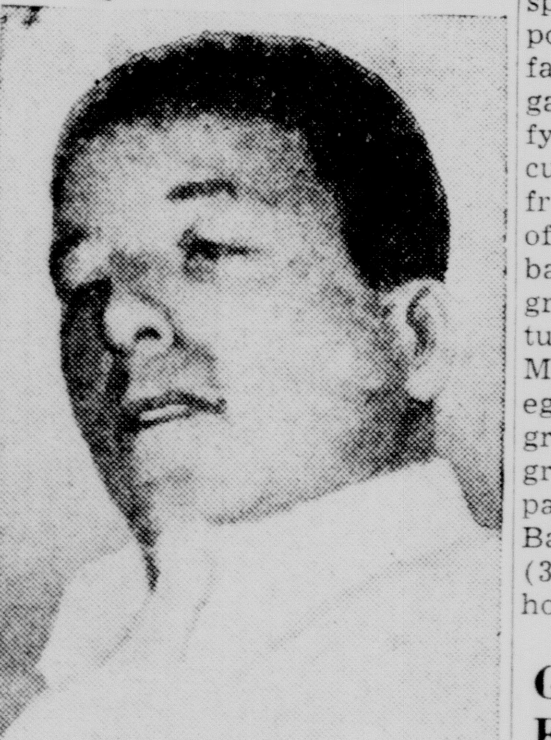

(12) Study problems of cooperative marketing.

(13) Recommend that livestock producers go to market more often with livestock.

The members of the committee and the attendance at the meeting included Milton Mathew, chairman, Bruce Claycomb, McKinley Thomas, Boyd Calvird, Ernest Jones, Carl Raines, Frank B. VanDyke, John Sneed, and Edw. Fichter. Guests of the committee at the meeting included Oscar DeWolf, Glen Breckenridge, Harvey Weathers, Fred Houchen, H. R. Harris, C. L. Carter, Edw. Heffernan, Olen Monsees, E. M. Woods, and J. U. Morris.

Gifts Should Be Of Non-Perishables

Some Reminders On Sending Food To Ones Overseas

"If you're considering some food gift for a service man or woman overseas, send only what you know will keep." This is the recommendation of home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to inquirers hopefully hunting ways to put up fried chicken, lemon pie, home-canned pickled eggs, and other delicacies, so that they will stand a hard sea voyage.

Any food that could be satisfactorily sent to a civilian can be sent to a service person within the United States. But before deciding to mail food to war zones, it's well to count four. Both the War and Navy Departments agree on three points:

1. Soft candy and fruit have been known to ooze from a package and run clear out of bounds, causing trouble wherever they ran.

2. Cookies and other perishable foods may have a rough and tumble time, and a hot time, in a ship's hold, and arrive shattered and perhaps even rancid or moldy. A box may be heading for the cold North, but in the engine room of a ship where some packages travel, the heat sometimes rises to 135 degrees.

3. Boys overseas so often eat out of cans that even a favorite home-canned food that arrives in pretty fair shape is likely not to be such a treat.

4. Best food gift prospects for mailing to war zones are dried fruit, vacuum-packed nuts, and hard candy. These are dependably good sailors.

If it still seems that some other food is the thing to include, home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggest fruit cake as the most durable cake prospect. Men returning from overseas confirm this, saying that fruit cake stands up very well.

Fruit Cake Should Be Firm

If it is to travel successfully, a fruit cake should be firm and rather dry when it comes from the oven. Recipe proportions and long baking at low temperature are important. Then, if the cake is well packed, the fruit will moisten the mixture and flavors will blend to "ripen" the cake for good eating.

Well packed means cake wrapped in wax paper and enclosed in an inner box, preferably tin, with a tight lid. Fill any spaces with clean, fresh paper, so the cake will be rigid. Adhesive tape may help to keep a tin box lid on and moisture out.

Following are two recipes which the home economists consider adapted to sea travel:

Dark Fruit Cake: 1 cup fat, 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 4 eggs, 1 pound prunes, soaked, drained, pitted, and chopped; 1 pound seedless raisins, plumped and drained; 1/2 pound citron, thinly sliced and cut into strips; 1/4 pound (about 1 cup) nutmeats, chopped; 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1 teaspoon mace or all spice; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon milk.

Cream the fat, gradually add sugar and continue to cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add prunes, raisins, citron, and nutmeats. Sift together flour, mace or allspice, cinnamon, and soda. Add about half of the dry ingredients, then the milk and remaining dry ingredients; pour into two deep loaf pans (about 3 inches deep) well-greased and lined with greased paper, or one tube pan prepared the same way. Bake in a very slow oven (275 degrees F.) about 3 hours. Makes 4 pounds of cake.

White Fruit Cake: 1/2 cup fat; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 cup sugar; 1/2 cup sour cream; 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1 cup chopped nutmeats; 1 cup Sultana or seedless raisins; 1/4 pound citron cut in small pieces; 1 slice candied pineapple cut in small pieces, or 12 small strips of candied orange peel; 1/4 teaspoon soda; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 5 egg whites. Blend the fat and vanilla. Gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add the sour cream. Mix 1 cup of the flour with nuts and fruit and sift the remaining cup of flour with the salt, soda, and baking powder. Add the dry ingredients and fruit and nut mixture to the fat and sugar mixture. Mix well. Fold in the well-beaten egg whites. Pour into a well-greased tube pan lined with greased paper, or into 2 deep loaf pans prepared the same way. Bake in a very moderate oven (300 degrees F.) for 2 to 2 1/4 hours.

Green Feed Good For Poultry Flock

Green feed will provide poultry flock health insurance and result in more profitable production, even though its use may be restricted to afternoon grazing—particularly in cold weather, says E. B. Winner of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. With the present feed situation it is doubly important that green feed be provided this fall. Recent fall rains have made it possible to make necessary seeding.

Livestock Meet Thursday Night

Livestock producers of Pettis County are invited to attend the county-wide livestock meeting that will be held at the City Hall, West Second street, Thursday night, October 5, at 8:00 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss livestock marketing, feeding, and management problems.

E. S. Matteson, Extension Animal Husbandryman of the University of Missouri, will lead the discussions on livestock feeding and management, and E. M. Woods, Field Representative of the Producers Livestock Commission Ass'n., will lead the discussion on marketing and outlook.

Both Mr. Matteson and Mr. Wood will have information on market outlook, adjustment in livestock numbers to meet food needs and feeding and management practices of interest to all livestock producers, says J. U. Morris, County Extension Agent.

Mickey Rooney Weds "Miss Blankenship"

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 2. —(AP)—Mickey Rooney, the motion picture actor now a private in the army, and Miss Betty Jane Rase, the Miss Birmingham of 1944, were married here Saturday afternoon after a whirlwind courtship of less than a week.

Miss Rase, a tall, 17-year-old blonde, was introduced to Pvt. Rooney, who is stationed at Camp Sibert, Ala., last Sunday at a movie preview here, by Lily May Caldwell, Birmingham news reporter who accompanied Miss Rase to the recent Atlantic City beauty pageant, where she was fifth in the Miss America contest.

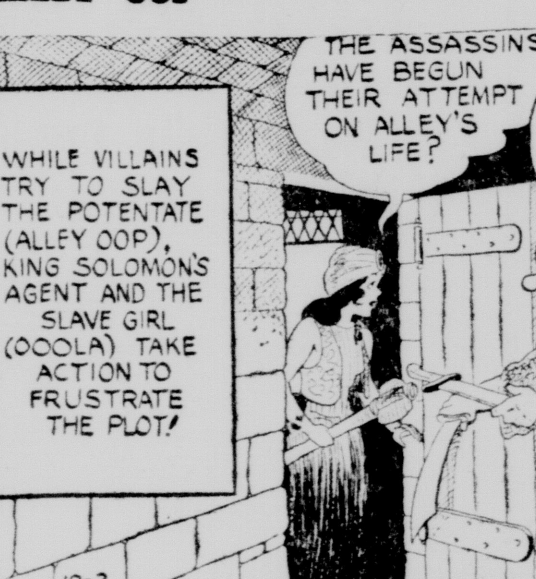

Rumors of the wedding had been current here for two days. Miss Rase wore a diamond engagement ring when she returned from a visit to Gadsden, Ala., near Camp Sibert, in midweek.

Out For 1,000 Bags Of Pods

Generous Turn-In On Collection Of Milkweed

Approximately 600 bags of milkweed pods were turned in at the receiving station at the Missouri State Fair Ground on Saturday, September 23, states Ernest Baker, Treasurer of the Pettis county milkweed collection committee.

These milkweed pods came in from all sections of the county. Some of the groups turning in the larger number of sacks include the La Monte Boy Scouts—58 sacks; Mrs. Raymond Whit'el, leader of the Oak Grove-Elder Ridge 4-H Club—35 sacks; Walnut Grove 4-H Club—33 sacks; Longwood Presbyterian Sunday school—32 sacks; Mrs. John Witcher, McVey School—30 sacks; Mr. Potter, Scott School—22 sacks; Sadie Strickland, Knob Noster—22 sacks; Miss Elizabeth Scott, Cartwright and Sunny Meade Schools—17 sacks; Mrs. R. W. Rissler, Camp Branch 4-H—17 sacks; Earl Winston, Eden Valley—15 sacks; Sedalia Girl Scout Troop No. 20—12 sacks; Mrs. Jack Purnell, Prairie Hill School—12 sacks; Georgetown 4-H—12 sacks; and Mrs. Ed Allen, Oak Dale School Junior Farm Club—11 sacks.

Hope To Reach 1,000 Bags

From reports that have come in, there are still a lot of milkweed pods that have not been turned in and it is hoped that Pettis County will have at least 1,000 bags.

These groups that have not turned in their milkweed pods may do so at any time. Milkweed pods should be turned to Ernest Baker, Missouri State Fair Grounds and when they are turned in he will make payment for the milkweed pods.

No milkweed pods should be turned in until they are thoroughly dry.

A fine job of collecting milkweed pods has been done by school groups, boy scouts, girl scouts, 4-H club members and their leaders, says J. U. Morris, chairman of the Pettis County Milkweed Pod Collection Committee, and in behalf of the committee expresses their appreciation for this good work. The 600 bags that have been turned in contain enough floss to make 300 life savers for men and women in the armed forces.

Browns Win Their First Pennant

Surprise Team of the Year to Battle Cards In The World Series

By Charles Dunkley

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—(AP)—For the first time in baseball history teams representing St. Louis in the National and American leagues will battle for a world's championship in a series opening at Sportsman's park Wednesday.

The surprise team of the year, the St. Louis Browns, and their National cousins, the Cardinals, will be the contenders.

The Browns swept to their first American league championship in 43 years yesterday by defeating the New York Yankees, fading world's champions, 5 to 2, while the tail-end Washington Senators were giving priceless aid by eliminating the Detroit Tigers, 4 to 1.

The strong right arm of Sigmund "Jack" Jakucki, a rugged, tomato-faced 35-year-old pitcher, and the powerful hitting of Chet Laabs, Mike Kreevich and Vern Stephens carried on to the final game of the season to break the deadlock between the Browns and Tigers.

Laabs connected with two terrific homers in successive innings to tie the count and then put the Browns into the lead. Stephens slammed out his 20th homer of the season in the eighth inning to give Jakucki the courage he needed to polish off the Yankees in the breath taking ninth.

The Browns set two records yesterday in trimming the Yankees four in a row in one series and drawing a sweltering shirt-sleeved crowd of 37,815, an all-time high attendance figure for a St. Louis American league club at home.

There will be no time for celebrating for the Brownies. One of Manager Luke Sewell's first orders was for his players to report to the ball park at 11 o'clock today for a workout to keep them keyed to the edge they have been during their last home stand which saw them take 14 out of 17 games.

Sewell said he didn't know who he'd start against the Cards, but it's a good guess, that he will use Nelson Potter, the club's leading pitcher with 19 victories and seven defeats. Potter has won 13 of his last 15 games. Billy Southworth, manager of the Cardinals, also has refused to divulge his selection, but the prospects are he will be Morton Cooper.

The Cardinals return home from New York late today after splitting a double header with the Giants yesterday.

Although the Cardinals are favored, the Browns cannot be counted out because of their great courage and their ability to come back after one serious disappointment after another. They led the league most of the season, saw a seven-game lead slide from under them, take the lead quickly again, lose it just as quickly, and then tie up the race to go on to ultimate victory.

"They've got it — guts," explained Manager Sewell.

Notes on the Browns: Manager Sewell not only won the American league pennant, but an extension of his lease of the apartment which he shared all season with Billy Southworth, manager of the Cardinals. Before yesterday's final, Southworth phoned Sewell from New York that the Browns would win and that Sewell should go ahead and keep the apartment.

Southworth will occupy hotel rooms. . . . The Browns drew 509,500 fans this season, their largest since 1924 when 533,334 went through the gates. It's a shame to call attention to it, but the Browns have the Detroit Tigers to thank for two of the players who played such an important part in the pennant drive, Mark Christman and Chet Laabs, who belted those two important homers. Both came to the Browns in May, 1939, in a player deal.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Besides proving that sports experts can be just as fallible as human beings events of the past weekend indicate there hasn't been much change in football since last season. . . . Teams either have what it takes or they haven't, as indicated by those big totals piled up by Notre Dame, Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Army, Purdue, Minnesota, etc., against rivals that ordinarily would put up a tough scrap. . . . Only difference so far seems to be that there are more good civilian teams. . . .

And how about those guys who forgot all about the Tigers and Browns last spring when they were picking the Yanks and Senators to fight it out for the American league pennant?

A. W. O. L.

Ray Kurowski, the Penn State marine trainee athlete, never has seen his brother, George (Whitey) Kurowski of the Cardinals, hit a homer. . . . When the Cards were playing the Phillies a week ago, Ray wangled a weekend liberty. . . . He sat through eleven innings without seeing George get even a hit, then ran for the last train back to college. . . . Next morning Ray picked up a paper and read how George had won the game with a homer in the 16th.

Monday Matinee

Ray (Semi-pro) Dumont has ordered about twice as many baseball rule books — plus several pages of playing hints for kids — as he distributed last year and has lined up 400 radio stations to give them away. . . . That Navy upset by North Carolina preflight wasn't entirely unexpected. Before the game Rip Miller told his friends that if the Midshipmen could get past that one, they'd probably do all right.

Service Dept.

Sgt. Joe Louis and his army boxing troups are booked for a tour of Egypt and the Persian Gulf command now that he has finished with the Mediterranean sector. . . . The Sioux Falls, S. D., army air field claims its baseball team compiled one of the best service records this season — we — four straight victories.

Program On Achievement

Blackwater Clubs Presented It On September 22

The old saying, "Kill two birds with one Stone" was accomplished Friday evening, September 22, by the Blackwater Progressive Extension Club and the 4-H Club who presented a local achievement program and a community good time all in one evening. These two events are requirements for their certificate of achievement, so they were good managers and did them both on one trip, thus saving gas.

The women had a beautiful display of handiwork made during the year. There was a great variety in the numerous crocheted articles. Of course, the quilts always have their place in the beauty of color and stitches taken, one especially outstanding was seventy years old. It was called "Grandmother's Dream" an original design by the maker. A table of curious from other lands had their place of interest; the ornate box from Italy, a billfold containing Italian money, the woven slippers from North Africa, a coconut, fig leaf, and many other interesting articles. There was a colorful display of garden vegetables and canned foods.

Room For Display

The 4-H club had their display in a small room all to themselves. The room was decorated in green and white. Plates of onions and potatoes were the fresh products while canned foods included tomatoes and carrots.

Mrs. Raymond Whittall, president of the Extension Club, presided over the evening. A 4-H playlet was presented by the members of the 4-H club and a Victory Garden song was sung by them. Johnny Hurd emphasized the place of honesty in 4-H club work and everyday living with a clever telephone conversation. Garner Paul Weldee gave a reading about boys' project work and the cooperation the mother gives.

Miss Bacon was introduced and congratulated the club on their fine exhibit and interesting program. She explained to the group about the "Green Thumb" Victory garden contest and gave each of the women a card to hang in their kitchen as a reminder of the 7 basic foods to be included in their meals every day.

Jean Burfeind and Rebecca Daniels. The remainder of the program was group singing led by Parsons Hurd accompanied by Mrs. Melvin Lane at the piano.

After several songs had been sung and enjoyed by the group, they assembled downstairs. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers and candles. The women graciously served sandwiches, cocoa, and coffee to 100 people.

USO Plans Ye "Hoe-Down"

Another big square dance program for servicemen and women is planned at the USO for Tuesday evening from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. Musicians in J. M. Cramer's group will play for the dance, while Charles Shoemaker and some of the soldiers will call for the dances. The "squares" will be interspersed with round dances. Committee arrangements for the party-dance are being made by Miss Peggy Wagenknecht and Mrs. Bettie Burford.

The Tuesday evening dance committee is planning a Hal-low'en barn dance, which was suggested by Mrs. Cramer and others. It is hoped that this dance may be held in a rural community with a real barn dance setting, but the transportation problem may alter these plans.

More Musical Instruments Needed at SAAF

Requests for more musical instruments at the air base have come to W. VanZandt, director of local USO club. Some of the section groups at the base and the service club would like to obtain used musical instruments for informal use of the men and women during their leisure time. Any citizen who may have wind instruments, old pianos, radios, drums or string instruments, give or loan are asked to call the local USO club.

G. Heisterberg of East Fifth street recently gave a used piano that is serving the men of the 61st Wing in their day room.
